REVENUE OVERSIGHT COMMITTEE

INCOME-

RULE CONSIDERED

At its January 12 meeting, the Committee received testimony from several taxpayers and county assessors on their concerns over the implementation of certain property tax and income tax laws. After considering the effect of the current rule governing the income tax allocation of income earned by spouses, the Committee voted to petition the Department to amend this rule to allow allocation of the income "in a manner that reflects the sharing of responsibility, management, and services."

LIQUOR LICENSE
STUDY

The Committee discussed various alternatives to the liquor license quota system and requested staff to draft bills for discussion purposes only at the next meeting that would: 1) allow annual population estimates to be used as the basis for license distribution; 2) base quota limits on county populations; and 3) allow the Department to sell additional licenses at the current market value in each city.

TAX INTEREST AND PENALTY
CHARGES DISCUSSED

The Committee also reviewed a research report on the various interest and penalty rates charged for delinquent taxes under current statute. The Committee directed staff to prepare a bill that would make the interest paid to taxpayers on protested taxes or overpayments equal to that charged taxpayers for delinquent taxes.

The Committee will meet again on March 7-8 in Room 104, State Capitol, beginning at 1:00 P.M. on Friday.

ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY COUNCIL

MEETING HELD

The Environmental Quality Council (EQC) met in Helena on January 25. Presentations addressing the problems of uranium exploration, taxation, economic development, and natural resource laws were given. Reports on legislative resolutions were also considered.

NEW ADDRESS FOR EOC

EOC will be moving the end of this month. The new address will be 1209 8th Avenue. It should be noted that the telephone (449-3742) and the mailing address (Box 215, Capitol Station) will remain the same.

PERMIT REVIEW
PROCEDURES
STUDY

The last Montana Legislature assigned the EOC the study of coordinating permit review procedures (HJR 60). They directed the staff to prepare and report recommendations for a coordinated permit program.

After investigating studies and reviews of existing coordination procedures and the laws and experiences of other states, EOC circulated some general concepts of a program for Montana. This mailing generated useful discussion, comment, and feedback.

EOC has now drafted a working paper which details a permit coordination procedure that incorporates the objectives of the resolution with the research and input.

To solicit additional comment for ongoing work, the Council has approved circulation of the draft working paper to all legislators, state agencies, and other interested parties. Copies of the draft will be mailed shortly for review. This will allow the staff to identify specific concerns and then address them in subsequent work.

The intent is to avoid or mitigate inherent problems and drawbacks in advance of the next legislative session.
